Trilateral Commission Meeting

Trade is key to Trilaterals

Protectionism issue outrank

By Herbert A. Michelson
SAN FRANCISCO — Trilateral Commission members attacked on Monday protectionism but made potential U.S. trade gains a secondary concern.

Kissinger predicts U.S. trade is key to Trilaterals

Henry Kissinger said he expects the United States and the Soviet Union to sign an agreement on nuclear non-proliferation but he doesn't think it will be especially beneficial to Western Europe or the country.

"I believe there will be an agreement in Geneva this year and it will be the cornerstone of Kissinger's agenda for the Trilateral Commission meeting Monday at the Fairmont Hotel in San Francisco."
